

20. WHAT WE LEARN FROM FISH

1.

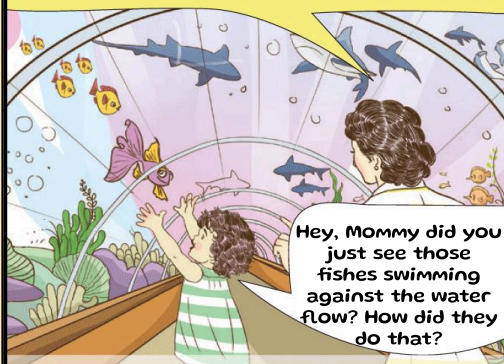

Inayat, these fishes move all the time to breathe properly. They know if they don't swim, they might die; so, they keep moving to stay alive.

Wow! these fishes are so pretty. But why don't they stay still at one place, Mommy

Momma tries to explain to Inayat the importance of moving towards the aim of one's life.

3.

My love, there are some fishes that can swim against the water flow. This shows their

Hey, Mommy did you just see those fishes swimming against the water flow? How did they do that?

Mommy induces the thought in Inayat, to work in any condition, even if it unfavourable.

Inayat, nothing can be achieved without hard. So, the fishes, too work hard for their survival. The fastest fish would get its food first Momma, look! The fishes are moving faster now, in fact, they are rushing! But why? Each fish would get its share wouldn't they?

Momma tries to explain to Inayat that nothing comes so easily: one needs to work hard to achieve the goal.

They expect nothing, yet they constantly do their job. Inayat, do you think you learn something from them?

I loved it, Mommy. I must say that these fishes have taught me to work hard continuously to achieve my goal, under any condition.

Inayat understands the lesson we got from a fish.
